Charles Crockett's shop.

Until the first of January of the present year the records of births and deaths in Lahaina have not always been kept in a careful and systematic manner. Dr. Davidson, the Government of the death of the control of the con physician, is now performing this duty and in future the records will be accurate and trustworthy. It is believed that a comparison of statistics at the end of the year will show a lower death Olaa, assessable, $4.62\%. end of the year will show a lower death rate in Lahaina than in Honolulu. On Wednesday morning a Japanese in the employ of the Pioneer Mill Co. was caught between two of the plantation cars and his left knee was badly bruised. The joint was not permanently injured, however, and the patient is doing well under Dr. Davidson's care.

There is no undertaker in this town. When one of the residents dies the coffin is made by the local carpenter.

A small drug store would probably be well patronized. The grocers keep a very limited assortment of patent medicines. A good soda fountain would draw.

Was it a diminutive earthquake? About 10 o'clock on Tuesday night sevslight tremor in their houses, accompanied with singular noises. The strange phenomenon lasted only for a few moments. The Lahaina school children enjoy a vacation from Thu sday afternoon, April 4, to Monday morning, April 15. Special services were held at the English church on Good Friday morning. A Chinese photographer is taking the pictures of his countrymen in Lahaina in accordance with the registration reg-
